

MAGNOL FRANCE

Magnol has a Cabinet Solution for You!

Magnol has been very well known as a manufacturer of residential meters for over 50 years now. In fact, the company was founded approximately at the same time as Gaz de France was. For many years, we have been developing residential, commercial and industrial meters. However, some 25 years ago it became obvious that in order to sell commercial and industrial meters, they had to be installed in systems we call cabinets.

These cabinets are small regulating and metering stations. They range from 16 to over 650 m³/h with diaphragm, rotary piston or turbine meters. The regulators used are the ones approved on the French market.

For over 25 years, and with some thousand cabinets per year, Magnol is now a major player in this field.

Gaz de France has managed to standardize the production of cabinets in order to allow manufacturers to mass produce and cut down on costs. Furthermore, Gaz de France has been exporting this technology via their subsidiaries throughout the world.

Countries, like Switzerland and Italy, are showing interest in solutions that could save time and money.

Our stations are compact for environmental reasons. Since they are to be installed on sidewalks, they should not protrude too much. Our design includes a removable cabinet around the chassis, which allows easy servicing. It's just like opening the hood of a car engine.

For over a year now, Magnol has extended its service to include the design of specific cabinets where a standard design cannot fit. The customer provides us with the dimensions of the old cabinet and the technical requirements and we provide the right solution. Our goal is to offer fast and reliable service to our customers, not only in France.

We believe that if this solution is good for the French market, it could be applied to other markets. If you have any questions, please do not hesitate to contact us. Our sales assistants speak fluent German, Italian and, of course, English. We will design the solution to fit your requirements.

If you cannot find the right solution - we will design it for you.
