

THE NATURAL CHOICE FOR GAS CONTROL EQUIPMENT

Elster Jeavons Product Range

Elster Jeavons. An established name, synonymous for many years with excellence in gas control engineering. Elster Jeavons equipment, from small domestic regulators, through the full field of application to LPG equipment and purpose-built regulator/metering units. Specified worldwide, with confidence, to operate with consistent efficiency and reliability. The following outlines the company's range, designed, developed and manufactured to meet all relevant prevailing National and International standards.

Low Pressure Regulators

High Pressure Regulators

Domestic

Developed over several eras of technology change this section of the Elster Jeavons range provides accurate and reliable outlet pressure control for domestic applications. Units are available in several sizes and inlet pressures to satisfy all market requirements.

Industrial and Commercial

In this sector Elster Jeavons equipment is unrivalled, with a range extended and enhanced by the application of the latest design and materials technologies to meet the needs of customers throughout the world. Included are the J78 compact regulator and the multi size, multi option J48.

Medium Pressure

Requirements in the medium pressure sector are fully covered by a choice of regulators; for example, the highly versatile J125 and the single valve J123. Two new products have been recently introduced into this category; the J125B (see separate article on page 17) and the J123 HP regulator.

Safety and Control

Elster Jeavons units developed to guarantee the safe control of gas include the J48K pressure and creep relief valves, the S100/S200/S300/J98 slam shut valves and the J120 low pressure cut off valves complete the range.

Filters

Vital to system safety and functional efficiency, Elster Jeavons filters ensure the elimination of gas borne debris and maintain the integrity of all downstream units. Designed for ease of installation and operation, they deliver outstanding product benefit.

LPG / Medium Pressure Service Assemblies

Elster Jeavons manufacture a comprehensive range of LPG products including first stage and second stage regulators, tank fixing kits and meter assemblies, for domestic, mobile home and small industrial/commercial installations. The range of medium-pressure service assemblies includes kiosk assemblies, pit units, inset and

The Company

Elster Jeavons, based in the traditional heart of industrial England, is a member of the global Elster-Instromet Group, which specialises in the design, development and manufacture of original gas measurement and control equipment. Established for more than 85 years, the company is committed to on-going self assessment and investment in new technology. The constant improvement of existing products, plus the design of new concepts to meet ever-changing gas industry needs, is fundamental to future Elster Jeavons operations.

LPG Regulators

Range of Meters

surface-mounted wall cabinets. A complete design and production facility is available for purpose-built units to individual specifications.

Metering

Elster Jeavons is responsible for marketing a range of the Elster-Instromet Group's metering products within the United Kingdom. The Elster-Instromet Group is probably the largest manufacturer of gas meters in the world. The range marketed by Elster Jeavons includes diaphragm meters and rotary meters for both primary and secondary metering applications together with the QA range of aluminium bodied turbine meters for secondary metering applications.

Quality

A core element contributing greatly towards the success and reputation of Elster Jeavons has always been the company's commitment to the achievement of unparalleled quality standards, which have for many years satisfied the rigorous standards specified by ISO BS 9001. From initial design, through to delivery of the completed products, Elster Jeavons is dedicated to the maintenance of these benchmark standards. Today, total quality management, transformed into supreme product capability, is Elster Jeavons' unimpeachable policy and constant aim.

Trevor Billington trevor.billington@jeavonsltd.co.uk